

STUDENT POPULATION

Allegany College of Maryland students reflect the diversity of backgrounds and life-styles of its regional population. Most students live within a thirty-mile radius of one of the two campuses. The College welcomes the increasing number of veterans, homemakers, and employed adults seeking to upgrade job skills or contemplating career change.