STUDENT AFFAIRS AND SERVICES

ACADEMIC ACCESS & DISABILITY RESOURCES

Students who had an IEP or 504 plan in high school or have been diagnosed with a learning disability, ADHD, or a chronic medical or mental health disorder may qualify for academic accommodations. Those students who provide appropriate documentation of their condition to the Academic Access and Disability Resources Office (AADR) will have a set of academic accommodations established that uphold equal access to educational opportunities at ACM, such as extended time on tests, a reader for tests, or testing in a quiet environment. To assure timely acquisition of services, students should contact AADR at least four weeks prior to the start of the semester. Maryland residents who are retired from the workforce by reason of total and permanent disability as defined by the Social Security or Railroad Retirement Act may be eligible for a disability-based tuition waiver and should contact the AADR on the Cumberland Campus, located in the Humanities Building, Suite H-1 through H-3, by calling 301-784-5234 or emailing ADR@allegany.edu. Individuals who need assistive calling may place a call through Maryland Relay by dialing 711.

American with Disabilities Act of 1990, Title II prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability; this legislation established comprehensive standards that were expanded per 2008 Amendments. Rehabilitation Act of 1972, Section 504 prohibits discrimination against any person on the basis of a "handicap" by entities receiving federal funds.

- Allegany College of Maryland will provide access to its programs and activities to disabled persons. Discrimination against an actual or perceived disability is prohibited.
- The person must be otherwise qualified for the program or activities, accommodations must be reasonable; and accommodations may not fundamentally alter the program of service.
- Students who have a documented disability that affects learning for which reasonable accommodations are needed should contact Academic Access and Disability Resources. (See above)
- Employees who have a documented disability for which reasonable accommodations are needed during employment should contact Human Resources.
- Any person with a documented disability for which reasonable accommodations are needed for other programs or activities should contact the ADA/504 Coordinator.
- Any person who experiences discrimination on the basis of a disability may file a complaint under the College's grievance process; retaliation for filing a complaint is prohibited.

For instructional accommodations, contact https://allegany.edu/academic-access-and-disability-resources/index.html. For non-instructional accommodations or if you need to make a complaint, contact ACM's ADA/504 Coordinator, Dr. Renee Conner in CC-12, by email at rconner@allegany.edu or by phone 301-784-5206. ACM LEARNING COMMONS - LIBRARY / TESTING / TUTORING

The ACM Learning Commons is a center created in response to the need of our students. The Learning Commons combines the services of the library, testing, and tutoring in one central location. Leaning on each branch of the Learning Commons, our staff in library, testing, and tutoring work together to strengthen services and support students with an efficient, service driven, and collaborative approach.

DONALD L. ALEXANDER LEARNING COMMONS/LIBRARY

A well-trained staff is prepared to assist students and College personnel with their learning and information needs. The Donald L. Alexander Learning Commons / Library is considered as much a place for learning as the classroom, with librarians providing instruction in research and information gathering skills.

The Cumberland campus Learning Commons / Library, named for the College’s third president, is a comfortable place for students to study and relax, both individually and in groups. The space allows seating and study areas, and a lounge where students may take refreshments and have wireless Internet connectivity.

The Learning Commons / Library includes the Appalachian Collection, the popular repository of genealogy and regional history materials. The Allegany County Genealogical Society’s offices and its collection are also housed in this area. There is a collection of materials related to celebrated American author Willa Cather and other revered American and British authors. These impressive items, gathered by Dr. Gary Cook in name and memory of his late wife, Janet, an ACM English professor, are housed in the Janet Zastrow Cook Willa Cather and Rare Book Collections.

Cumberland Campus library resources include printed books and periodicals and a large selection of non-print materials such as DVDs, eBooks, and CDs. Materials are selected for their relevance to the instructional programs and for their potential to serve the cultural and recreational interests of the College community. Materials from other libraries may be obtained, free of charge, through interlibrary loan. Adult residents of Allegany County and the surrounding area are encouraged to use the library and may borrow materials.

Mac and PC computers with internet access and Microsoft products allow students to work effectively in the library. Students may use the online library catalog either on campus or at home to locate materials in the library collection. To aid students and faculty in research, the library subscribes to online databases of journal articles and other electronic resources. The library's databases may be accessed from off campus by all faculty, staff, and students. In support of the College’s information literacy program, general and course specific classes are offered to teach students the efficient and appropriate use of different resources and materials.

Library resources are also available at the Bedford County Campus. The Bedford County Campus library offers computer stations that give access to the library online catalog and databases, and electronic resources, which are accessible through the college library webpage. These databases, online books, and select websites have thousands of periodical articles, books, and other forms of information on a wide variety of topics from nursing, psychology, science, and other disciplines.

Results of the placement evaluation are used to determine a student’s readiness for college-level coursework and to increase the student’s opportunity for academic success. Students should contact the Advising Office to determine which section(s) of the placement test are required.

Placement Exemptions

Provide documentation for one of the approved multiple measures to determine course placement or take the College Placement Assessment. Students who transferred in a college-level English composition course or College Algebra course at an accredited college/university are exempt from taking the respective portion of the assessment. Students transferring in more than 6 credits of general education courses are exempt from taking the reading portion.

Classroom Testing

The Learning Commons Testing Center is defined as a center for proctoring national, correspondence, online, and academic make-up exams, and for providing special accommodations testing.
